

Background

- Under the Federal Clean Water Act, states are required to periodically conduct a comprehensive review of their surface water quality standards
  - Known as “Triennial Review” because must conduct review at least once every three years
- Department adopted revisions for last TR on Dec. 9, 2015, and EPA approved the revisions on July 24, 2017