

APPENDIX E - IRRIGATION MANAGEMENT PLAN

Controlling the volume, frequency, and application rate of irrigation water is important in managing soil moisture to promote desired crop response and decrease non-point source pollution of surface and groundwater resources. This appendix contains the irrigation water management plan for the solids application fields and pasture for the farm.